

moving lives in the right direction

Behavioral health, crisis interventions, autism spectrum disorders... when you don't know where to turn, one call to Gateway connects you to care 24/7.

Gateway Healthcare is your link to behavioral health care, crisis intervention, emergency shelter, residential services and educational programs. We provide treatment, education and prevention services to Rhode Island's individuals and families in need, helping them to lead healthy lives in the community.

In fact, we are one of Rhode Island's largest nonprofit behavioral health organizations, offering integrated treatment and prevention through residential, outpatient and community-based programs. We provide a comprehensive continuum of services 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. We are in more than 41 locations across Rhode Island, including Pawtucket, Central Falls, Johnston, Cranston, Middletown, Lincoln, Smithfield, Woonsocket and West Greenwich.

People suffering from mental illnesses, developmental issues, abuse or addiction can lead productive, fulfilling lives with proper treatment and support. Seeking help through Gateway is a positive step toward improving quality of life.

Who is Gateway?

More than 700 dedicated staff and professionals including, psychiatrists, psychologists, clinical specialists, nurses and case managers provide outstanding care through the programs you'll read about on the next pages. Our goal is to address our community's basic needs and evolve our programming as the community changes. To do that, we continually seek collaborations and new joint ventures.

Who Gateway serves.

We reach over 15,000 men, women and children of all cultural and economic backgrounds throughout the state who would not otherwise have access to the services they need. Each year, we provide more than $2 million in free care.

Children, Teens &

Adventures in Learning offers experiential learning and therapeutic services for children suffering from emotional and behavioral disorders through unique outdoor education. Youth redefine their perceptions of themselves from self-destructive to positive, acquiring the skills to make self-respecting, responsible decisions.

ASD Connections works in partnership with schools and other service providers to offer clinical services for children and youth with Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD). ASD Connections supports their emotional and social development with intervention and therapy, including speech/language, occupational and behavioral therapy. When needed, counseling, outpatient services and partial hospitalization are integrated into the program.

Child and Adolescent Residential Programs provide comprehensive mental health services, crisis intervention, treatment, care and housing for severely emotionally, sexually and physically abused and neglected children and youth. The program is designed to reunify families, provide alternative treatment to hospitalization, and transition children and adolescents to alternative levels of care.

Child & Adolescent Intensive Treatment Services (CAITS) provides primarily home-based, family-oriented intensive therapies and care coordination services for children at risk of psychiatric hospitalization or out-of-home placement. Our specialized teams include interventions for grief, trauma, substance abuse, depression, anxiety, juvenile justice, parent/child relations, oppositional defiant behaviors, autism spectrum disorders and other behavioral health disorders.

Empowered Families CEDARR Center offers a direct link to care that fits the needs of children and families coping with special needs, behavioral health issues, developmental disabilities, medical disorders, autism and technology dependence. They also provide assessment, referrals, resources and therapeutic intervention for the short term to address the needs of families.

Family Outpatient Counseling provides therapy and psychiatric services to children, adolescents, adults and families throughout Gateway programs, co-located community social service agencies and primary care centers.

Kid's Link RI is the state's first centralized emergency hotline for children in emotional crisis and suffering from behavioral problems or mental health issues. The hotline: 1-866-429-3979, connects parents and caregivers to all the children's services in the state, and helps parents determine the best place to go for treatment.

Families

Youth Guidance helps youth from elementary through high school build the personal skills needed to prevent social problems while teaching, practicing and internalizing the behaviors that make young people successful at school, at home and in the community.

Valley Community School is an alternative school for children and youth with special needs where highly trained teachers and professionals help them overcome behavior problems through small classroom settings, tailored educational plans, vocational preparation, specialized counseling and structured learning.

Adult

Adult Residential Programs offer housing and mental health services to adults with co-occurring and persistent mental health issues in long-term, transitional or semi-independent settings.

Crisis/Emergency Services delivers around-the-clock emergency services, assessment and crisis intervention. Gateway's Crisis/Emergency Services is also linked to a national network for suicide prevention and intervention.

Case Management Services support adults living with mental illness, helping them lead productive, independent lives. Services include: daily living skills; nursing services; rehabilitative services; assistance accessing community resources; referrals to internal resources; crisis intervention; and counseling.

Gateway Professional Group is a private group that provides individual, marital and family psychotherapy to men, women and children on an outpatient basis. Various treatment approaches are utilized to meet the needs of each individual.

LifeWatch Employee Assistance Program is an employee assistance program offering employer-sponsored counseling, stress management, conflict resolution and education services.

Rehab Services provide supported employment and education, as well as community integration activities such as social network development and group activities for people living with mental health issues.

RIACT I & II (Rhode Island Assertive Community Treatment) are intensive community-based outreach programs that provide a comprehensive range of psychiatric, rehabilitative and supportive interventions to individuals with severe and persistent mental illness. Through the use of specialized multi-disciplinary teams, the programs enable individuals to live healthy, safe and independent lives in their own community environments.

Tri-Hab helps individuals with substance abuse and co-occurring mental health problems through a series of residential and outpatient programs addressing the many issues related to drug and alcohol abuse. Treatment includes group and individual therapies, education, outreach, crisis intervention, assessment, case management and linkages to primary health care.

Centro La Familia provides the Latino population with culturally sensitive counseling, substance abuse services and treatment for co-occurring mental health problems.

Outpatient Counseling and Women's Day Treatment Programs offer substance abuse education, assessment, outreach, crisis intervention and case management, as well as individual, family and group substance abuse counseling and mental health evaluations and treatment.

Domestic Violence Batterers Program provides offenders of domestic violence crimes with educational group sessions to identify and resolve anger management issues. Individuals are referred by the court and local probation officers in each region of the state.

Transitional Housing for Women and Children provide women completing a substance abuse treatment program a place to stay in an environment that is substance-free, allowing them to re-form a healthy relationship with their children. Andrea's Hope is a recovery home with four apartments and is limited to a two-year length of stay. Norfolk House is a home for women without children. The length of stay is limited to two years.

Substance Abuse Residential Treatment Programs offer individual and group counseling, case management, psychiatric evaluations and linkages to primary health care services for individuals with substance abuse and co-occurring mental health problems.
